DATE FOR PARK ELECTION APPROACHING

Nature Is Aiding WPA Workers In Beautifying Grounds; Tennis Court Near Completion.

Even nature is aiding the cause of those who favor the purchase and completion of the new recreation park in Arlington Heights. The WPA workers themselves are showing added zest in their work since the grass is starting and buds are showing upon the shrubs. The park looks twice as attractive today than it did two months ago when the movement was started to ask the park board to acquire the property. One group of men are busy wrapping the large trees and otherwise protecting them, because as Gilbert Kiehm says, we will be blamed for every tree that does not grow. The election takes place Saturday, May 23, when the voters will have the opportunity to voice their approval of an ordinance directing the park board to issue not to exceed $23,000 in bonds to purchase the park site.

Much interest is being shown in the baseball diamond and it is understood that various groups are already making informal applications for the use of the grounds. Arlington Heights is going to have the use of that park this summer. The property owners will have the cost of acquiring the grounds added to their tax bills. If the park election carries, the responsibility of making final purchase and operating the park will fall upon the park board. The financial cost will be spread over a period of years, and the taxpayers will hardly feel the additional burden. If the vote is negative, the job still rests upon the village and means will have to be found to raise the needed money, which will ultimately come out of the pockets of the same tax payers, regardless of which board is in charge.

The stone screenings for the tennis courts are now being put in place. The steel posts are in place and the wire netting that will entirely enclose the three courts is expected daily.

So, boys and girls, "get set" for tennis and be sure that your dad and mothers vote for that park May 23.

VALID LICENSE LAW PASSED BY ARLINGTON

Local Business Firms Must Be Protected Declares Schneberger.

Arlington Heights now has a valid license law applying to all vehicles used in the dispensing of articles of food and hereafter the outside firms must pay a yearly license fee of $25. It will do no firm, no matter how large, any good to fight the ordinance as the Illinois Supreme Court has ruled upon a similar ordinance and the same will stand.

Alderman George Schneberger, of the police committee led the efforts in the board to secure the adoption of this ordinance as well as a companion measure that is designed to be just as effective against solicitors, salesmen and all manner of peddlers. Attorney Thal has been very careful in the drawing up of these ordinances and is of the belief that they will be upheld in any court to which they may be taken.

"The first step," stated Mr. Thal Monday night, "is to sell your ordinance to the presiding judge before whom your cases are to be taken. The annual license fee of vehicles handling food stuffs, etc., is enforceable because it is in the nature of an inspection fee for said vehicle. It means that every milk truck, butter, tea wagon, etc., that comes into Arlington Heights from outside places is subject to a yearly fee of $25. The ordinance is published this week.

During the discussion on this ordinance which lasted nearly an hour, Alderman Schneberger made the statement that his department would make no arrests until the board had come to a definite decision and that if the ordinance was not passed, a definite statement should be publicly made to the busi-ness men that the village could do nothing for their protection.

The ordinance passed.

Wheeling Troop of Boy Scouts Have Enjoyable Social Evening

Last Friday evening, April 24, the Boy Scouts of Wheeling under the capable leadership of Marshal Balling were entertained at the home of Mr. John E. Barrett. Mr. Barrett transformed his spacious basement into an amphitheatre, where Mr. A. F. Volz of Arlington Heights entertained the scouts and ladies' auxiliary for scouting and members of the local Parent Teachers Association with his reels of movies taken during his travels in the west and in Florida. Mr. Volz gave the boys an evening of real enjoyment. Particularly interesting was his reel of color photography of the Flower Festival parade in Pasadena, California.

After the pictures Charles S. Stewart of Des Plaines gave a brief talk on the meaning and significance of the youth movement in American Life.

And then the whole group enjoyed the refreshments, consisting of sandwiches, cake, coffee and cocoa.

Mr. Barrett takes a great interest in the problems of youth welfare and is one of the sponsors of scouting in Wheeling. Marshall Balling is one of the young men of Wheeling, who has trained himself for leadership in the scout program. These men hope to increase the interest in scouting in the Wheeling section for there are many more boys in the community who ought to be getting the scout training.

OLD SCHOOL RECORDS PROVE INTERESTING

G. K. Volz Finds Early School Officials Had Own Troubles.

The village of Arlington Heights can boast of the oldest elementary graded school building in present service of any town northwest of Chicago. Whether that is a thing to be proud of depends upon the attitude of the individual, but the early records of the present school district No. 25, then known as school district No. 10, are interesting reading. Geo. K. Volz, school treasurer of Wheeling township has unearthed a lot of old records, which he is classifying and is hoping to return to individual school districts a few memorabilia of their earlier days.

It seems that each succeeding treasurer has been passing on to his successor a box or two of old papers. Mr. Volz secured consent of the county superintendent of schools to clean house and he is doing it. Many of the papers are of no value, except from a historic standpoint. A reporter of the Herald had the privilege of glancing through some of the papers and here are some of the things that he found.

The earliest paper found was a mortgage dated 1854 for $200 for which the borrower pledged 40 acres of land as security. The interest rate was 10 per cent. These mortgages were frequent and there were many of them down through the years. There were no banks in those days, and the township school trustees were evidently the source of loans for many of the earlier settlers.

There was no record in the papers examined of the organization of the school districts, but from cancelled bonds and notes it is evident that all of the school districts erected school buildings between the years 1867 and 1870. What was then known as school district 6 (now number 23) erected a school in 1867. The present building used by Arlington Heights was erected in 1869. The school directors were J. E. Kennicott, H. Russell and E. A. Allen. Evidently Mr. Kennicott was a monied man and he loaned several thousand dollars to the school district to pay for the building. These bonds, which were in long hand and written upon common ruled paper were dated Sept. 10, 1870 and the total of the issue about $6,000.

The original school in district 1, now village of Wheeling was erected about 1871. The directors were J. G. Schneider, Jacob Husinger and Louis Fisher, Jr. Flora Heinrich was the teacher and she received $22.50 a month salary.

School District No. 3 (now number 20, erected a brick school house about 1876, the mason work on which was done by Henry Meyer. The directors were August Waarich and Lorenz Daner. The person who lighted the fire and served as school janitor received $1.00 a month for his or her services.

All of the school orders were merely written upon scraps of paper that happened to be available. Endorsements were many. Evidently the school districts did not always have money on hand and the school directors or others advanced the money to pay the teachers.

There were exciting school contests in those earlier days. Petitions for separation and annexation to adjoining school districts were many. The greatest controversy was at the time of the organization of the present Mt. Prospect school district, when its organizers attempted in 1895 to take more than half of the taxable land of the Feenhanville school, as well as part of the lands belonging to the Arlington Heights district. The decision of the township school trustees was originally overruled by Supt. Bright, county superintendent of schools and it was not until the following year that a compromise was made and the present school district for the coming village of Mt. Prospect was established. Foremost in its establishment were Wm. Busse, Wm. Wille, H. N. Russell, and Wm. Seegers. The opposing faction contained names of families that were equally as important in Wheeling and Elk Grove townships.

There are probably few residents who now remember that there was a community in the township by the name of Huntersville. It was evidently situated immediately west of the Soo line track at Wheeling. A petition was found which asked that Peter Knittel's subdivision of Huntersville be taken from school district No. 3 and attached to district No. 1. The school directors were J. Schwingel, Aug. Noedling and C. H. Sigwalt and the date March, 1895.

In 1886 Robert Reed asked that his lands be disconnected from school district 10 (Arlington Heights).

There are numerous invoices of the earlier days. Among them were: C. & N. W. freight bill under date of Dec. 14, 1875; invoice for coal from the local firm of Peter & Tewksbury, 1875; hardware supplies from J. Bray & Bro., 1877, and others. A frequent item among the invoices were water pails and drinking dippers.

Included among the effects was a map of Wheeling township, published by Rossiter, the surveyor. Upon it are to be found such railroad stations as Camp McDonald, Helm and Feenhanville, all upon the Wisconsin Central of those days and called milk stations.

Early Politicians Had Vest Pocket Control

Among the recent papers discovered among township papers by G. K. Volz, Wheeling township treasurer, was an official ballot of April, 1909—the day of the so-called "vest pocket" elections. The ballot is reproduced below. It was before the days of the Australian ballot system. The official ballots were indiscriminately passed around the same as specimen ballots are today. As the voter cast his ballot, the election judge gave it a number upon its back, said number agreeing with the poll book, which enabled an election official to check for whom each voter cast his ballot.

The ballot is reproduced below:

drinking dippers.

Included among the effects was a map of Wheeling township, published by Rossiter, the surveyor. Upon it are to be found such railroad stations as Camp McDonald, Helm and Feenhanville, all upon the Wisconsin Central of those days and called milk stations.

An echo of the establishment of the Arlington Heights High School district was found among the papers. This was in more recent times. It was in 1914 that Mr. Prospect and adjoining farmers were opposed to bearing a high school tax, attempted the formation of the Mt. Prospect high school. According to the map found in the records, said district went almost around the village of Arlington Heights leaving very little outside territory for the local high school. After eight years of litigation in which Palatine also had a hand, the present high school at Arlington Heights became a reality and the Mt. Prospect high school plan was dropped.

Of particular interest to Mr. Volz was a voucher in payment for school benches and desks that had been made by hand by Christian Volz, father of George Volz, and sold to district 6 by G. T. Kuhn, grandfather of Mr. Volz. The order is dated Jan. 15, 1870, and signed by Jesse MacNab and Wm. Reed, school directors.

There are few teachers schedules among the papers, but a few Wheeling people may recognize the family names of these five pupils were were pupils in District 8 (now number 26 of Millie Watson, the teacher. One of the pupils was 20 years old. Their names were Louisa Feet, Emma Feet, Edith Hurlbut, Joseph Harm and Effie Fellows.

Here are the names of more recent people who attended the Arlington Heights school in 1889. The teacher was J. M. Hess. The pupils were:

W. W. Wood, T. H. Kellogg, Leonard Wood, Geo. W. Lunz, Wm. Hewitt, Rheinhold Muller, Geo. Perry, H. A. Draves, G. K. Volz, W. C. Muller, Chas. F. McElhose, Bruce Best, S. A. Holmquist, Edward Stuenkel.

Lenia Lorenzen, Fannie Wheeler, Alta Kettering, Addie Hawks, Mary Muller, Gertrude M. Page, F. I. Higgins, Edith A. Kinder, Gertrude E. Peter, Emma McElhose, Mary Heffner.

None of these were 20 years old however.

SUGAR BEET ACRES OFFERED NORTH FARMERS

Meetings to be Held at Elk Grove School House Tonight.

O. G. BARRETT

Last year some 125 farmers in the south end of Cook county grew approximately 600 acres of sugar beets. This year that same advantage may be available to those in the north half of the county. A meeting has been called for Friday night, May 1, at 8 o'clock, at the Elk Grove school house, corner of Elmhurst and Higgins road. All of us who are on our toes and ready to take advantage of any opportunity that may be afforded will be on hand at this meeting.

Mr. Allen of the Lake Shore Sugar Company something like a year ago approached our Farm Adviser with a proposition of our Cook county farmers interesting them selves in the growing of sugar beets. A meeting was called and keen interest was shown. The above number of acres were contracted in short order.

Sugar beets were grown by contract for the sugar company on a 50-50 basis; that is to say farmers growing the beets delivered them to the plant at Holland, Michigan; the sugar company making the beets into sugar and the returns of the sugar, whatever the price may be, divided on an even division basis.

Sugar beets under the Agricultural Adjustment Act were considered a basic commodity and those growing them received a benefit payment as was the case with the corn-hog farmer. Again under the Soil Conservation Act the sugar beet is given consideration and it is within the program of Soil Conservation and Allotment Act.

The freight rates, which necessarily the farmer has to bear, from the points in the south half of the county last year was $1.50 per ton. We are happy to report that those rates have been reduced and extended to the north half of the county so that it may be stated that this year the rates from points in the north half of the county will only be $1.40 per ton.

As we see this proposition of growing sugar beets, it has some advantages. In the first place the market is guaranteed, leaving the farmer to worry only about the production end of his program. Secondly, an acre put into sugar beets necessarily means that they won't be put into carrots. Any number of those acres which are taken out of carrots or cabbages should, to just that extent, help the market on carrots and cabbages.

That our farmers in the north end of the county may have equal opportunity and that they may possibly take advantage of the program, this meeting which has been scheduled for Friday night, has been called that all of us may have a more thorough understanding than we could possibly obtain in an article. Full explanation will be given as to the contract and program in general by Mr. Allen of the Lake Shore Sugar Company and incidentally our Farm Adviser will be on hand to answer such questions as may arise as regards the place that the sugar beets hold in this whole Soil Conservation program.

Wheeling Drainage Case Ends With Court Denial

The Wheeling Drainage Case which has been in the courts over two years has come to an end with a denial of Attorney Kolb's petitions for a rehearing and for a certificate of importance to the Supreme Court in the Appellate Court. Likewise, his petition for leave to appeal, filed in the Supreme Court, was denied. The Appellate Court, by denying these various petitions of Mr. Kolb's have closed the door to further review of the orders entered in the County Court by Judge Isley on March 28, 1935.

The orders of the latter were the approval of the financial statement of the former drainage commissioners, Messrs. Henry Grandt, Sr., A. O. Rokenbach and John Welinski and exonerates them of all charges that had been made against them.

Fire Department Suggests New Hydrants In Business Section

The Arlington Heights fire department made a test on the water pressure in the down town area and found that owing to small hose opening in the hydrants in the business section, the greatest pressure with use of pumper is 125 pounds, while the capacity of the machine is nearly twice that amount. Without the use of the pumper the water will just reach the roof of the three story buildings.

Chief Volz in a letter to the village board suggested that an exchange of hydrants be made with a few in the subdivisions where there are no homes. The matter was referred to the water committee.

MEMORIAL SERVICES FOR CHAS. CUTTING

Palatine To Honor Late Jurist and Its Most Rep- resentative Citizen.

The village of Palatine will honor its most representative citizen, the late Charles S. Cutting with memorial services Sunday in Cutting hall of the Palatine township high school. The last mark of respect to this nationally known judge and attorney will be paid by the townsmen of a community to which the name of Cutting has meant a great deal for over half of a century. The personal acquaintances of the judge who are today residing in Palatine, are not many, but Mr. Cutting always felt that Palatine was his own home town and his interest in its success and advancement seemed to increase as the years passed on.

The remains of this friend of Palatine were laid to rest in Hillside cemetery last week, but his life of service to the community and to the county and state, will live again in the memorial service of Sunday afternoon. It will be short and simple, the kind that Mr. Cutting would prefer, yet in that simplicity the friends and admirers of this man will pay a last homage to a man who stood for all that was honest and upright.

The service will include a few short talks by Benjamin F. Buck, former principal of a Chicago high school and who was a neighbor to Mr. Cutting, Edw. C. Auston of the firm of Cutting, Moore & Sidley; C. E. Julian, who has many intimate memories of political campaigns in which Mr. Cutting took so important a part for many years; H. H. Pahlman, who knew Mr. Cutting as the day of his boyhood chum, G. C. Butler, former high school principal and T. C. Hart, former president of the high school and village clerk for many years.

The general public is invited to attend this service.

BREADMAN KILLED BY SOO TRAIN

Elmer Quist, 49 years old, 6754 S. Irving street, Chicago and driver of the Silver Cup bread truck that visits nearly all of the food stores northwest of Chicago, was instantly killed about 8:30 at the Woodlawn street crossing of the Soo line at Des Plaines. He was employed by the Gordon Baking Co., of 1534 Federal street, Chicago, and had a reputation of being a careful driver.

Desiring to cross the railroad, at Perry street, Quist found a freight train standing on the east track and drove to Woodlawn starting slowly across the track, not noticing the flyer that was coming from the north.

The bread truck and its contents were distributed along the right-of-way for 2,000 feet, the body remained upon the engine.

The coroner's jury gave a verdict of accidental death and recommended that gates be installed.

Arlington Heights Resident Killed by Train

Anthony Brown, 78 years old, residing on North State road, Arlington Heights was instantly killed at 12:15 Monday afternoon at Edison Park. He had been in Chicago and was returning by Chicago Surface line bus and expected to board a train for home. CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Probation after Death" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, April 26.

The Golden Text was, "Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which according to his abundant mercy hath begotten us again unto a lively hope by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead" (1 Peter 1:3).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "And I heard a great voice out of heaven saying, Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men, and he will dwell with them, and they shall be his people, and God himself shall be with them, and be their God. He that overcometh shall inherit all things; and I will be his God, and he shall be my son" (Rev. 21:3, 7).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science Textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Life is the origin and ultimate of man, never attainable through death, but gained by walking in the pathway of Truth both before and after that which is called death" (p. 457).

Mother and Daughter banquet will be held at the Methodist Church next Wednesday evening, May 6th.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sayers have moved from 116 S. Walnut to their newly built home on West Campbell.

Perhaps W. B. Andersen, South Walnut is wiser than some of us who use our vacation to make a trip and come home tired. He has spent his vacation resting quietly at home.

The Stitch and Chatter club met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. John Sujack. We'll leave it to you whether much stitching was done, since the hostess served a waffle supper at the beginning of the meeting.

Relatives from Rockford and Belvidere spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hines.

Mrs. Mittie Darrah of Kankakee and daughter, Mrs. Floyd Koons of Highland Park visited Friday with Mrs. Calvin Mitchell.

Wednesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Williams entertained their evening bridge club.

Geraldine Williams is especially thrilled over her birthday date which is April 23rd, for it is also Shirley Temple's. She celebrated with a party at school, serving ice cream and cookies to her classmates.

Miss Dorothy Bliemehl's fourth grade gave a play Tuesday afternoon—a play which they had worked out from their history lessons. It showed the progress of civilization from the stone age, the stone implements, the discovery of metal, the making of pottery and the weaving of cloth, barter and exchange, and writing were all shown in their cleverly arranged play. To those fourth graders, history is not just another lesson but has a real meaning.

Mrs. Bohn of Lockport visited her daughter, Mrs. John Sayers last week and attended the senior play in which her grand daughter, Marjorie Sayers had a leading part.

Thursday afternoon, Mrs. Ott's Campfire group met with Mrs. Albert Hines. The group is now working for wood gatherer's honors.

It's a custom among the Seaside people that they get together once each year for a card party. A week ago Saturday evening their annual party was held at the Arlington Country Club. There were prizes for each table, and an evening lunch. The evening was so pleasantly spent that many wished the parties were more frequent.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Riley, former residents of Arlington Heights but more recently of Chicago, have moved back here to 413 West Wing.

What is the news? 'Tis hard to say
Except that to our sorrow,
What comes to us as news today:
Is sure denied tomorrow.
So as reporters on we go,
Sure that sad news is true
As death and taxes fall we know,
And bright news comes to view
News that some people may annoy.
May bring to you great thrills of joy,
The birds and blossoms bring good cheer,
Bury old grouches, spring is here.

Resume of P. T. A.
1936 ConventionSECOND ARTICLE
THURSDAY SESSION

"Every child has the inalienable right of a rich contribution from his father and no one else can take the father's place," said the Reverend John B. Hubbard, of Saint Mary's Episcopal Church of Park Ridge to the gathering of about 3,000 men and women at the Thursday evening session of the annual convention of the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers. "Father, the Interpreter" was the subject of the address in which he emphasized that the home exerts the largest influence in the life of the child. He pointed out that the churches, schools, and government will help in the influencing of children but that none of these agencies will raise the children. The father and mother will in the final analysis have to do it. He said that the human mind is the most marvelous thing in the world and that how the child's mind works will determine his future. It is the parents' business to bring out the finest and best in the child's mind. The parent should help him to develop his natural characteristics.

The Reverend Michael J. O'Connell, president of De Paul University, at the recreation luncheon urged his hearers to spend their efforts in training the youth of today to appreciate the finer things in life that they may be able to spend their leisure in a more profitable manner.

J. M. Braude, presiding judge of the House Court, Chicago, said that parents are to blame for much of the delinquency of their children because they do not know where their children are or what they are doing much of the time.

"Assembly here are the two most important agencies building for youth," said Professor Francis Chase Rosecrance of Northwestern University, in his address on "Building a Safe World" to members at one of six dinners held Thursday evening. Professor Rosecrance outlined five points to be considered in building a sane, rational, reasonable world for young people. They were: a world in which there is freedom; a stable, secure world, secure against war and economic upheaval; a truthful world; a world in which human values supersede mechanical inventions, where machines do not become the masters; a consistent world where the demands of home, school and parent's and society coincide.

Judge John Gutknecht, of the Traffic Court of Chicago, told the delegates attending the dinner at which he spoke that they have fifty per cent more chance of living while in Chicago than when they return home. The decrease in traffic hazards is due to (1) publicity (2) to the cutting out of ticket fixing and (3) cutting down of speed in Chicago.

PRINCIPLES, POLICIES AND ACTIVITIES OF THE P. T. A.—As adopted at the 1936 convention held April 15, 16, 17.

Robert Goedke, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Goedke, was in too much of a hurry Wednesday noon to get out of St. James school and went through a window, cutting a hand and lip.

Save the afternoon of May 20, for the Pageant of Shawls to be given by the Gleaner's Circle of the Methodist church. Watch for further announcements.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lips reached their seven times five, and plus two wedding anniversary Sunday, April 26. Had their friends known of it in time there would have been a real celebration. Remember, friends, have set the date down so as to remember it next year.

The newly organized Woman's Guild of St. James church are planning to give a card party May 15 in their school hall. They are to provide prizes and refreshments of the choicest kind. The tickets in charge of different committees, are now available, don't miss this attractive entertainment given by this new organization to help us to get better acquainted.

February gave us Washington, Lincoln and a few other great ones including our Spartan Mother, Susan B. Anthony. It remains for April to give us other noble characters last, but not least, Shakespeare and our own good doctor Elfeld. Our great sculptor Lorado Taft. One of these, Doctor Elfeld, with members of his household were invited to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ned Jayne at Wheaton, to a family dinner in celebration of Doctor Elfeld's birthday, and incidentally the marriage anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Rau which fell a day later, April 24. To speak mildly, it was a grand celebration and much enjoyed by all, not to miss the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jayne. The following day, April 24, was the birthday of Edward S. Elfeld, happily celebrated in the Elfeld home by the old aggregation that have been with Edward in his parents' home for many birthdays past. The one thing detracting from the joy of the party was the absence of Edward's mother and his sister, Dr. Persis Elfeld.

There is to be a May party Friday night in Presbyterian hall for the Sunday school, whether there is to be a May Queen or not, we are not informed. Am sure it will be a happy May party for all who attend Saturday night.

The Corephilia will meet Monday May 4, with Mrs. Moriel in the Vail-Davis building at 8 o'clock.

A prenuptial shower was given Miss Arline Mayers in the home of Mrs. Korrigan at Des Plaines, Tuesday night, April 28. There was a regular April shower of beautiful gifts to rejoice the bride-to-be. Games, cards and bunco and refreshments. About thirty guests, among them Mrs. Lester Dohbins, the Misses Laura Vogt, Ruth Heffernan, Ruth Israel and Audrey Haas. Miss Arline Mayers and Mr. Leonard Arnold are to be married Saturday, May 2, and shower guests all wish them joy and all went merry as a wedding bell.

Steve Szasz Wins Berth
On Michigan State Eleven

A Detroit newspaper carried the following story this week:

"Steve Szasz, Arlington Heights, today became the leading candidate for the open right halfback position on the Michigan State football team next fall by carrying off major honors in a practice intersquad game between the Reds and Blues. Szasz brilliant play paced the Blues to an 18-6 triumph. The Arlington Heights player scored all of the touchdowns, in addition to chalking up several long gains."

Steve is a graduate of the Arlington Heights high school and while here starred in football, basketball and track. He is a freshman at Michigan State college.

The Word "Carnival" Derived from the Latin, "carnival" once meant "farewell to meat," and it grew out of Christian tradition, but these fetes began long before Christianity was introduced to Europe. In Germany the word originally signified the driving out of winter and its demons by spring and its good spirits.

The body of the New Firestone High Speed Tire is made from selected long-staple cotton dipped in liquid rubber, absorbing eight pounds of rubber in every hundred pounds of cotton. This patented Gum-Dipping process insulates every fiber in every cotton cord, preventing internal friction which creates the heat so destructive to tire life, and giving to the tire added strength.

This heavy, broad, traction and non-skid tread is held to the cord body of the tire with Two Extra Layers of Gum-Dipped Cords, a patented construction, making the cord body and tread an inseparable unit.

A leading university in 2350 tire tests has found that the new, scientifically designed Firestone High Speed tread stops a car up to 25% quicker. Its super-traction and non-skid efficiency have also been proved in the famous Pike's Peak Race where for eight consecutive years it has been used on the winning cars.

OBSERVER'S NOTES

Howdy, Howdy, everybody!
You who labor rest or study,
Leave each grouch behind,
Life has worries everywhere,
Each one has some cross to bear;
If he rests, studies or labors,
In this City of Good Neighbors,
Let us all be kind.

And never leave this one r. out,
"Tis what you do, not w. you shout."

Did you vote at the primary election Tuesday? If so you realize how difficult it was to choose from all the aspirants for office to which one you would give your vote.

You think it funny, how petty and childish office seekers often seem, yet it is funnier or more childish than we are, when we fail to give due thought and care in selecting those we vote into office—People whom we only know from seeing their names in newspapers?

After all, which is more trying to the soul of man, victory or defeat? It takes a strong, well beated individual to nobly bear either. Sometimes in the end, defeat leads on to greatest victory and sometimes over exaltation over victory reacts in defeat.

If you can calmly bear the slur,
That flippant envy flings to wound,
When unto you kind friends defer,
And keenly you feel your rebound,
Remember poisons sometimes do kill those who mixed the draft for you.

If you can move among the crowd,
And meet its glances sinister;
You can hear the whispers loud
That through the circle seems to stir,
Just ruse your spirit, and be strong Boomerangs find their source etc long.

If you can bravely hold your way,
When you must face bitter defeat,
Keeping your courage day by day,
When often others you must meet,
God and His universe my friend,
Will give you victory in the end.

Dear me, one gets sick and sorry listening to college professors and their ilk explaining that religion can only be understood and made part of our lives unless we are educated. Poor brain trainers, without knowledge of real users of brains. Page, for instance Billy Sunday or Moody. Hear what a learned man says of them and remember, "Except ye become as little children, ye cannot enter the kingdom of heaven."

Dr. Ellis says, "In his understanding and respect for Billy Sunday, he was a man of common clay, without formal training, preached to more persons than any other Evangelist in all the long range of Christianity." Billy Sunday did not have a great brain nor a great voice, or great nature equipment,

but he did have a great heart;
great courage, great consecration,
and great common sense. His recorded work should set our so-called educators to pondering.

No poet or song writer ever gave us a more beautiful song than our Battle Hymn of the Republic, so marvelously given by an inspiration from Julia Ward Howe. Those opening lines, "In the Beauty of the Lilies Christ was born beyond the sea." How they thrill and uplift us.

Like that am I inspired and uplifted every time I look upon this beautiful Easter lily given to me
by a loving friend.
I have a pure white lily,
It stands supremely high,
Holding its glowing taper,
Upward toward the sky.

So silent, so majestic,
Its guardsmen ranked about;
Their ready spears a-glitter,
To thrust each foe man.

I have a pure white lily,
No queen could staller be;
God bless the kindly thoughtful friend,
Who brought this flower to me.

Do you remember "away back when" speaking of youthful depradations and premature marriages, our good Pastor Rev. Ford said there came a time when it would be kinder to these younger folks if they could be shut in and kept on plain fare for three months,
in order to compel them to think.
If our good pastor were with us today
I'm sure he would advise the same treatment should be given to our adult population.

In Meadow Park the good work still goes on. We see a good fence, a good road, the planting of trees and shrubs, and as a passerby we have seen no idle workman leaning on their shovels to rest as one we read about the other day.

It was in the Pathfinder we read,
"A workman in an eastern project complained to the superintendent that he had no shovel. The superintendent said he saw no reason for him to complain about that as he wasn't working and the workman replied—you see I haven't anything to lean on."

Now comes Arbor day. Why not plant a tree in memory of some loved one—a growing stately ornament to keep fresh someone gone from that home, a perpetual monument greater than cold, lifeless marble. Plant trees and care for them. I love to lean on such a tree and think it is akin to me.

There is no man of high degree,
Dictator, king or president;
Who holds such high esteem from me,

As he who plants with wisest care,
And keeps it growing tall and fair;
That man holds great appeal for
me,
Who plants and tends a stately tree.

Have you seen a dandelion blossom? No, not yet, but our hepatica had a puny blossom and the lilacs like star besprinkle the ground with their pretty blue stars. The fragrant white violets are possessing new spaces with their pretty fragrant blossoms. However, if you wish to see a brilliant display of April blooms, look in the spring catalogues.

April is passing. It has been as "Bennie" says, "A pretty good of a month." Yet when we note that it had five Wednesdays and five Thursdays, how much more we might have put into it. Wait, here comes May, claiming all the flowers April showers nourished. Do you call that fair?

For greatest flower display, see the spring catalogues, or the display on milady's new bonnet. This is a beautiful sunshine morning, April 18. The birthday of the dearest most queenly woman I ever knew, my mother. Pardon, the personal allusion, no one I here record was ever more worthy a word.

Do those who have good mothers realize how much they have to be thankful for? It is not best as we think to separate father and mother in our comments. In our childhood it was not so. They were one to us in our honoring and obeying.
be kinder to the other day, in any town in our state than those we have growing in grandeur all about this old prairie town of Arlington Heights.

No doubt some other pen driver will tell about the Legion minstrel show given the 16th and 17th of April. But this we will say, if we can judge from the agility, quick springy steps and ringing voices of those minstrels last night, we are bound to aver that life begins at 30 or 35 instead of at twenty-one.

It was indeed a lively show and the performers were A-1 in their performances. Lawyers, justices, undertakers, dentists, well to say the least, it was a grand, old show they gave us. May the black soon rub off.

Speaking of shows, was there ever a more gorgeous picture spread than is to be seen in these April skies, flower colors, fern masses, menageries of animals of every land under the sun, navies, such as no Geneva conference ever conceived, and the deep fiery sunsets outdo the most destructive city burnings. Go to your window, or better, out of doors and witness a grander, picture unrolled from nature's screen than any earthly skill can give.

The cloud fleets sailing in the sky,
Like unto glorious ships of spring,
Their silvery sails so grandly fly,
Like monster birds upon the wing.

Their glowing colors dye the east,
Ushering in these April days;
Hailed by the birds, even the beast,
Lift with their praise.

The wonder of the sky at morn,
Like gardens of rose petals blown,
And all the flowers of springtime
born,
Over the way God's pathway strewn.

Cloud fleets of rose and lavender,
And purpling shades in deeper tone,
Along the Azure spaces stir, Breathe not a sigh, utter not a moan.

All the day long these squadrons
sail,
In north and western skies afar,
Until the sunset portals hail,
The first low rumblings of war.

Then, sudden sounds a booming blast,
As denser group the chored ship
host,

With trumpet burst on earth at last;
Beauty and peace are torn and tossed.

The cloud ships leave upon their track,
Wrecked homes, destruction dre
death;
Those morning clouds? Who that looks back Thought they were borne on furies breath?

The changing tints of clouds at dawn,
The splendor of the evening sky;
Fair dream ships to destruction drawn;
A day, a life, who answers why?

Yet, do our cloud ships glorious bring,
Cargoes of flowers for us to spread?
They give the planting time and spring
Beauty unmatched, as on we tread.

Two records were smashed and a number of good marks made in the Fourth Annual Palatine Relays held last Saturday. Sharpe, Grant sophomore, 240 pound giant, put the shot 50 feet 7 1/4 inches to break a record which had stood since 1932. Ray of Libertyville, a junior, high jumped 5 feet 11 1/2 inches to break a mark of 5 feet 8 inches made by his brother two years ago.

Naperville, with a well balanced team, captured seven first places and won the meet with 53 1/2 points. Libertyville ran Harshberger's team a close second with 45 points. The Wildcats were strong in the dashes and field events and won both the 880 and Frosh-Soph relays. Geneva, Grant, Arlington, Woodstock and Bensenville had some outstanding performers and finished in the order named. Crystal Lake won seven places, but they were mostly fourths and fifths. Stout and Nofz were the only Barrington men to place, while Kraft won Palatine's lone medal.

With a Frosh-Soph relay, Medley relay and high hurdles as new events, the schedule included 16 events, yet was run off in faster time than usual. Seventy-seven medals were awarded as well as a championship trophy to the winner of the meet. Libertyville carried off 19 of the medals and Naperville 18.

For the first time in the history of the meet a small profit was recorded. This was in spite of the fact that $38.50 was spent for awards, a figure at least $12 in excess of other years.

There were many stars besides Ray of Libertyville and Sharpe of Grant who broke the records. One of the outstanding performers was Koske of Bensenville, who won the discus with a mark of over 124 feet. This was just one foot less than the second place throw in the state meet last year and the big Bensenville lad seems destined to be a state winner this year.

Kraemer, Woodstock's ace sprinter annexed both the 100 and 220 yard titles by nosing out Madden of Libertyville in both events. Another double winner was Getz of Naperville who was victor in the 440 yard dash and the mile.

The hurdling stars of the meet were Richards of Arlington and Gould of Naperville. Richards, a junior, won the lows and placed third in the high hurdles. Gould won the high hurdles and took second in the low. Mazza of Naperville, a freshman, was the middle distance star with first in the 880 and third in the 440.

Two competitors placed in three events. Peacock of Woodstock won medals in both hurdle races and the 100 yard dash. Dewey of Crystal Lake placed in the broad jump, discus and shot.

120 Yard Hurdles—Won by Gould, Naperville; Peacock, Woodstock, second; Richards, Arlington Heights, third; Speeves, Geneva, fourth; Lorimer, Crystal Lake, and Burgess, Geneva, tied for fifth. Time, :17.1.

100 Yard Dash—Won by Kraemer, Woodstock; Madden, Libertyville, second; Peacock, Woodstock and Swift, Libertyville, tied for third; Severign, Naperville, fifth. Time, :10.4.

440 Yard Dash—Getz, Naperville, and Paddock, Grant, tied for first; Mazza, Naperville, third; Johnson, Arlington Heights, fourth; Hull, Arlington Heights, fifth. Time, :55.6.

440 Yard Frosh-Soph Relay—Won by Libertyville; Geneva, second; Bensenville, third; Woodstock and Naperville tied for fourth. Time, :49.4.

Palatine Marathon Runner Fails in Olympic Tryouts—But

Read this open letter addressed to the Palatine Lions club and you will understand some of the athletic spirit that never gives up. Wm. Dreyer, of Palatine is a runner and has been training many months, using the Northwest highway between Palatine and Arlington Heights.

Paddock Publications: I wish to thank the members of the Palatine Lions club for sending me to Boston recently to compete in the first Olympic Marathon trials. Although I made a very poor showing, I went there with every intention of winning.

For the past four months I have been training strenuously preparing myself for this event, and at the start of the race had no alibis. I felt in perfect condition, and had the wind on my back most of the way. Why I failed in that race I do not know. Even I ate some glucose tablets—a saccharine dynamite—which gives energy almost instantly.

A marathon runner must be very careful in preparing himself for a race, and must use perfect judgment during the race. No matter how good a runner he is, a small stone in the road, a tiny mistake in his diet, the misjudging of his pace or an oversupply of glucose or dextrose during the race can wipe out a year's training in a second.

Even such runners as Leslie Pawson, who broke the marathon record in 1933 and Pat Dengis who won the marathon championship of the United States last year failed to place in the Boston race.

Marathon running is a sport for young and old. It may seem a bit paradoxical, but it's true, to see gray haired men past sixty in a track suit running twenty-six miles. Such men competed in the recent Boston grind. They not only ran the twenty-six miles, but finished with the leaders. To succeed in marathon running one must have unquenchable determination—the kind of fighting spirit that will want him to finish the race if he possibly can even if he has to walk.

Such fighting spirit was shown by Paul DeBrywn, marathon champion of Germany, in the national marathon championship race at Washington, D. C. in 1932, just a few weeks after he won the famous Boston grind.

DeBrywn, with every eye upon him transfixed the crowd by collapsing with a gestural sob upon the hard pavement 20 yards from the finish line, and lay there like a man fresh from the inquisitorial race. Women screamed and men surged through the police lines to help the stricken man. A. A. U. Officials beat them back, for to help De Brywn would have disqualified him and annihilated the efforts of nearly three hours of misery. But one little German got close. He dropped down on his knees and he spoke into the ears of the unconscious De Brywn. He spoke in German and the world will probably never know what passed between them, but De Brywn began to rise. He got to his knees with a supreme effort and the mob shouted like a man beside him. DeBrywn was on his feet, swaying like a drunken sailor. Then once more began the wretched business of moving and with his head hanging loosely back on the nape of his neck he stumbled down those unending 20 yards, no sign of consciousness in his eyes, and collapsed into the haven of someone's arms. Failing to respond to first aid methods, De Brywn was carried to the emergency hospital, where he was pronounced as completely exhausted as a man could be. A few hours later myself and several other runners went to the hospital to see him. And as he was lying there in his bed, even though he had lost the race, there was on his face, that smile of satisfaction that he had accomplished everything that could be expected of him—that he had fought to the finish.

My record shows that in the past sixteen races I have finished first in nine and second in three, including one national championship and two district titles. Even though I failed to place with the leaders in the Boston grind, which was run over a hilly course from Hopkinton to Boston, I'll be on the starting line ready to try again in the second and final Olympic marathon trial at Washington, D. C. next month.

I am very greatly thankful to the members of the Lions club for having had such confidence in me, and for making it possible for me to compete in the first Olympic trials at Boston.

Signed, Willie Dreyer, Richards, Arlington Heights; Gould, Naperville, second; Lorimer, Crystal Lake, third; Peacock, Woodstock, fourth; LeVee, Naperville, fifth. Time, :25.

1 Mile Medley Relay—Won by Naperville (Falkenstein, Hancock, Krege, Thomas); Arl. Heights, second; Geneva, third; Palatine, fourth. Time, 4:07.

ELA TRIMS ARLINGTON IN BASEBALL

Ela took the measure of Arlington's Cardinals, 9-5, in a baseball game last Friday. While Leuthesser, Caddner, and Schroeder were blasting Kehe's fast ones, Herrick pitched superbly to stop the Arlington hitters. He fanned thirteen men in six innings, and gave only four hits. Although he weakened in the fifth and had to be pulled out in the seventh, his mates had piled up an adequate lead and he escaped with the victory.

After Granzin opened the game with a strike-out, Kirchhoff walked, took second on Leuthesser's wide throw to first, and rode home on Laseke's triple over Blau's head in right. Laseke stayed on third as Hedke swung at three and Ralph Willie poked a roller to first. Leuthesser walked in Ela's half of the first, stole second from where he watched Buesching whiff, and scored on Caddner's single. Schroeder drove him in a moment later and came home when Buesching at third picked up Herrick's easy grounder and threw badly to first. An earned run in the second made Ela's lead 4-1. In the fourth the Ela lineup paraded to bat, but collected only four runs. All these could have been avoided except for a misjudged fly ball, which fell for a double. In the second, third, and fourth innings seven out of nine batters went down on strikes before Roy Willie got the second hit for Arlington. Clark batted for Thune in the fifth and walked. Kehe singled but Pingel struck out as he faced Herrick for the first time. Welflin got his first hit, scoring Clark. Laseke flied out and both runners advanced. Hedke struck out with men on second and third. Ela scored in the sixth on two walks, a sacrifice, and a put-out. In the seventh Clark walked again and Kehe followed him. Pingel was safe on bad error by Herrick who had just gone to third when replaced on the mound by Sibley. Welflin drove a smashing single past second base, Clark and Kehe scoring. Pingel came in as Laseke grounded to Caddner at first. Hedke took his final strike-out and Ralph Willie topped a low ball which the pitcher took for an assist at first.

Leuthesser was easily the star of the game, running wild on the bases and scoring three times. Herrick's pitching effort, while great at first, was too strenuous for the cold, raw weather and he was unable to finish. Kehe, while being hit safely eleven times, looked good with nine strike-outs. Again he wisely guarded against injury and threw only straight, fast balls. Welflin's hitting was the only bright spot offensively for Arlington.

Leyden comes to Arlington Friday at 4:00 p. m.
